

DIGGING IN TO BEST PRACTICES

Sharing Locates

An excavator can share locates with another excavator, as long as the other excavators contact information was included in the locate request, or the excavator who submitted the request provides Ontario One Call with the contact information – OUINS Act, Section 11

Include in Locate Request - What you need to know..

Each company responsible for an excavation needs to have their name associated with the locates that are on-site. If you plan to share your locates with another excavator or subcontractor, it is best to include their contact information at the time of submission.

You can include additional companies/contacts on an Ontario One Call request within the “Contact Information” section under the “Additional Contact”. If more room is required, you could put additional contacts into the “Additional Information” section. These two fields should provide enough space to ensure that all of the parties working under the locate request are listed on it.

Excavators are required to wait for a written response from each member and to ensure that there is no conflict between the markings provided and the written information. The information provided on the locate request must reflect the most invasive dig parameters as many infrastructure owners issue clearances based on those parameters. Any less invasive work should be included in the “Additional Information”.

Additional contacts can be added to a request until the work to begin date
